Penn X Colored Girls

By Da TRUth

“What made the scene so unique?”
Gimo
GREMLINS

"Variety"- Redross

Starting off what made the poetry scene so unique and different is the fact that it was a variety of different people. Youth, Adults, Elders, so many different ages and generations of people coming together to experience each others plethora of styles and experiences because of poetry. `

"You wouldn't know what to expect"

"Everyone was so different"

https://knightfoundation.org/community/philadelphia/a-big-win-for-philly-youth-poetry-movement/attachment/pypmgroup

"What separates Philly Poets?"

"Grittiness"- Lindo

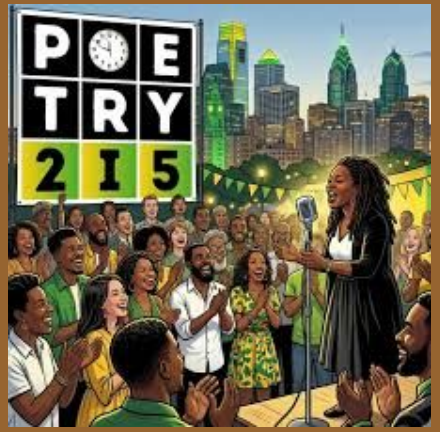

Another thing that made the philly poetry scene so different from others is the "Grittiness" we exhibit while performing. You can hear it in how we talk how we move how we express ourselves while performing these pieces of our own.

Lindo was explaining how before going to different venues in different cities he didn't notice how strong and different we are until he branched out and saw that something was "different".

Movement- Pringle III

Going to Panoramic Poetry or even just different poetry scenes around philly, when asked how it was being involved in the poetry scene he said he knew what was happening, in it was a renaissance type of situation.

"We knew that we were in the middle of something"

"You also knew that you could be experimental"

Conclusion

